Sirs

I am an active member of Picturehouse and frequent both the Bury St Edmunds and Cambridge venues.

Simply, Picturehouse, screening quality films for the more mature and, may I say, discerning viewers, does not compete with Cineworld, which screens so-called blockbusters and children's films.

In closing either or both you will be depriving a substantial body of film-goers, few of whom I suspect ever go to Cineworld, and many of whom are pensioners, of a huge pleasure.

PLEASE DON'T DO IT!

Sincerely

David Brown
